

North Pocono

A four-year member of the Science Olympiad team, Justin Morman has competed at the regional and state levels.

Also a Mathlete, Justin is a member of National Honor Society and challenges himself with taking accelerated and Advanced Placement courses.

By graduation, Justin will have maintained high honors throughout high school while ranking in the top 10 of class and completing nine AP courses. He is currently ranked sixth and earned the College Board's AP Scholar with Distinction.

A member of the volleyball team, Justin is an active member at the Church of St. Catherine of Siena in Moscow. He volunteers at the Vacation Bible School program each summer. Outside of school, he also works at Regal Cinemas in Dickson City.

Justin plans to major in biomedical engineering after high school at either University of Pittsburgh, Penn State University, Temple University, Drexel University or Boston University.
