Freshman reflections...

Rebecca DeGiosio of Jefferson Twp. reflects on her first year of college at Penn State University.

Name: Rebecca DeGiosio

Hometown: Jefferson Twp.

Parents/Guardians: Catherine and Antony DeGiosio

College/University: Penn State University (University Park)

Major: Biochemistry

Resident or Commuter: Resident

Q. Are you a member of any school clubs?

A. I am a member of the Three Broomsticks (Penn State's Harry Potter club), Forensic Science Interest club, Biochemistry Society, and Phi Eta Sigma - Penn State Chapter.

Q. Do you have any advice for college bound students?

A. There's a great big world out there, with interesting people, places and activities, but it won't all come crawling to you...take the initiative and try new things. You'll be rewarded!

Q. If you live on campus, what is the one thing you miss most from home?

A. The thing I miss the most from home is all the activity on and around campus. My summer at home has been very quiet by comparison.

Q. What are your summer plans?

A. My summer plans this year include vacationing in North Carolina with my family, and enjoying one of my last summers of true freedom!

Q. What are your future plans?

A. My future plans are to explore majors and careers, and attend grad school.
